GOTCH AND JENKINS.

Will Meet on Mat Again on May 19th.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, May 11.—The announcement that Frank Gotch and Tom Jenkins are going to battle again for the American wrestling championship, has created a big stir in the sporting world. The two men, who are both of the wonderful Russian Hackschmidt type, were followed by the foreigner's refusal to meet.

The American champion's prompt acceptance of Gotch's challenge has renewed interest aroused by the desperate struggle last autumn between the two men. Gotch and Jenkins several weeks ago, when the Clevelanders smashed the championship from this man's hands.

Friday, May 19th, was selected yesterday as the date for holding the match. This will give both men time to get into the best of their training. Gotch has been hard at work in his gymnasium, and Jenkins is anticipated of also having a chance at the Russian.

Both men will do their training in or near this city.

CHAMBER TAKES STRONG ACTION

settle in the counties of Virginia. The advantages to be derived by the State as a whole—urban as well as rural Virginia—from a strong and efficient chamber of commerce for this purpose, are so apparent as to leave no excuse for a consumption of time in a statement of them. If there is any body of action for the present that the Hon. George W. Kolner, Commissioner of Agriculture, be invited to call on the chamber of commerce, and before this board or chamber at such time as may best suit his convenience. After such discussion as may be deemed proper, the chamber of commerce may co-operate efficiently with the office of the Commissioner of Agriculture in the promotion of the chamber's roll of honorary members embraces representatives from every county in the State.

The chamber of commerce, in its effort to promote immigration and the State this membership could and would render most valuable service.

Important Subjects.
Among the leading subjects that should engage the attention of the proposed organization are these:
"Revision of the tariff."
"Railway rate."
"Development of our inland waterways."
"Development of Southern ports, so as to secure to them, as far as possible, a share in the business of the world."

The development of an intelligent system of good roads, and a number of other questions that cannot be enumerated by me this evening.

"I do not think it is an estimate what I have in mind, but I am convinced, however, that such an organization as this, if properly organized, will be of great benefit to the South and give it the most powerful direction in many valuable ways."

Persons and firms liable for the following named State licenses are notified that they are due in May—this month.

DEAD IN A CREEK.

Fate of William Lindley, an Insane Man, at Greensboro.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
GREENSBORO, N. C., May 11.—William Lindley, aged forty years, an employee of the Revolution Cotton Mill, was found drowned in a creek fifty yards below the street car trestle into this afternoon. He is supposed to have fallen through the trestle Sunday night and drowned, his body being carried down the stream by heavy rains. His mind had been affected for some time. He is from Burlington and his father is in the insane asylum at Raleigh.

A ten-dollar bill, his mother gave him, was in his pocket, and an unopened letter from Charlotte, addressed in a woman's handwriting.
